From Fr. JC Maximilian's Desk "A Catholic View of Death"

The month of November, as the end of the Church's liturgical year, has us thinking about death. We started the month off with the Solemnity of All Saints, in which we celebrate those sisters and brothers who are sharing in the eternal Heavenly wedding feast. They are the Church Triumphant, who have been cleansed of all stains of sin and are now the saints in Heaven. Then we celebrated the commemoration of All Souls, which reminds us to pray for our beloved dead who are still going through the final purification of their sins and the effects of their sins in Purgatory. They are the Church Suffering, who have been judged worthy of Heaven, after they make final amends for their sins. We, who are the Church Militant, are called to assist those in Purgatory with our prayers.

The readings at Mass also call our attention to the "Last Things": Death, Judgment, Heaven, and Hell. It is a time for us to reflect more deeply on what the Church teaches us about death. We are not Klingons, who believe that after death the body is nothing but an empty shell. As human beings, we are created by God with both a body and soul, and both constitute our human nature. It is because of some common misunderstandings about what we as Catholics believe about death, that the Congregation for the Doctrine of the Faith recently issued an instruction, "Ad Resurgendum cum Christo," that addresses the Church's teaching on burial and cremation.

The culminating truth of the Christian faith is the resurrection of Jesus from the dead. It is through His death and resurrection that Christ has freed us from sin and death. For Christians, death has a positive meaning, "for your faithful, Lord, life is changed not ended, and, when this earthly dwelling turns to dust, an eternal dwelling is made ready for them in heaven" (Preface for the Dead I). By death, the soul is separated from the body, but in the resurrection God will transform our body, making it incorruptible, by the reunion of it with our soul.

Because of this belief in the value of both the body and soul, the Church has always recommended that the bodies of the deceased be buried in cemeteries or other sacred places. Burial is the most fitting way to express our hope in the resurrection of the body. Pious burial also shows the respect owed to the bodies of the faithful departed who through baptism have become temples of the Holy Spirit. Finally, the burial of the faithful departed also encourages the whole Christian community, especially the family, to pray for and remember the dead, which also has the happy effect of fostering veneration of the saints.

Cremation has been acceptable in the Church since the 1960s. Of course, the reasons for choosing cremation must not be at odds with the Church's teaching. In other words, it must not be against the explicit desire of the deceased person, and it must not be done because of a belief that the body has no value. It is always the preference of the Church, that the body of the deceased be brought into a church for a funeral Mass, and that if cremation has been chosen, it is done afterwards. Like a body, the cremated remains of the faithful departed must be buried in a cemetery or other sacred place.

It is NEVER permitted to scatter the ashes in the air, on land, nor at sea. The ashes may NOT be divided among family members, nor turned into jewelry. They also cannot be stored in a person's home.

Reflect on the Word of Jesus Christ

November 13, 2016

33rd Sunday in Ordinary Time

Jesus Speaks Plainly About the End of Time!

In today's Gospel, Jesus speaks very clearly about the end of time and he spares no detail describing the intensity of earthquakes, the famines the fiery insurrection and wars. Signs in the sky are sure to be terrifying and at the same time..... awesome to behold.

In the same Gospel passage, Jesus says not to be worried about being his disciple. Not a hair on your head will be harmed because when we persevere, in our faith and love in his Faith, we will secure our lives. We are told not to worry about how to respond to those who persecute us. Because God will give us the wisdom we need to know what to say and our words will amaze those who hear our testimony.

We are called to live in hope, truth and justice. Our hope is in our loving God! The truth is that the world and all who live in it belong to God. Living that truth requires us to live in a right relationship, with all creation. Respecting and reverencing all life and walking gently in this world, if we follow Jesus example and remain steadfast, we will find the courage and be given the grace we need to testify and witness to the presence of God in the world.

Adult: Jesus I hope that my life and the way I live my Faith honors you. May my witness to you in this world, encourage everyone I meet to come to your love and move forward in Faith.

Child: Dear Lord, I want to follow your ways. I want to encourage all children to be ready to meet you by following your good and loving ways.

To All of the Good People of Resurrection,

As many of you may have heard, a major endowment campaign is currently underway at Resurrection and throughout the Diocese of Trenton. This week, we will be sharing answers to questions that we have been hearing from our parishioners:

How do I know that my pledge to this campaign will go to the needs outlined in the case for support?

Charitable trusts will be established and managed by a Board of Trustees to segregate the funds and ensure that the earnings from the trusts are only used for the purposes outlined in the Diocesan case for support. The Boards, composed of clergy and lay leaders, will also oversee the professional fund management firm charged with investing these funds. Each trust will be subject to an annual audit, and the investment strategy will be in conformance with guidelines recommended by the U.S. Conference of Catholic Bishops.

When do I need to start paying my pledge?

Whenever you would like! I know that this is a busy time of year and that it can also be a time of spending for many of you. That is why we are asking for pledges that can be made over 3-5 years and you can choose any start date that you would like to begin fulfilling your pledge during that time. All gifts to the campaign are tax-deductible and can be made through a credit card, debit card, automatic withdrawal from a checking or savings account, or through stock and other non-cash gifts. Please also remember that a pledge card is not a legally binding document!

Who will be asked to support the campaign?

Everyone! I am meeting with as many families as I can through face-to-face visits to personally explain the campaign and ask for a sacrificial offering. Volunteers have been assisting me by meeting with fellow parishioners and inviting them to support this great undertaking as well. I cannot thank enough our volunteers and those who have given for their effort and support of this campaign.

Everyone will be invited to participate in the Faith to Move Mountains Campaign. It is my hope that during this time, our entire community will join together and support this blessed effort for our Diocese and our parish. I encourage those who have been contacted or met with to prayerfully reflect over your commitment allow the Spirit to guide you. As we continue our efforts, I ask all of you to pray for our success and participate to what your means allow for the future of our Church. Thank you for your continued prayers and support!

Grace, peace and blessings to you,
Father JC

Resurrection Parish Faith Formation Program

November 13, 2016 - 33rd Sunday in Ordinary Time

The Lord comes to rule the earth with justice. Psalm 98

Faith Formation Absenteeism Alert

Dear Parents,

As you know you are the primary educator and prime example of how well your child knows his/her Catholic Faith. The Faith Formation Program is your parish, helping to assist you, in educating your children on how they are to lead their lives as a Catholic Christian. It is up to you how well your children know all that is required to be a practicing Catholic. This should include not only Faith Formation classes, but teaching them to attend Mass, Penance and receiving the Eucharist.

All Faith Formation programs are required by the Diocese where they are situated, to hold a certain number of hours of Faith Formation. Our program, as it stands, fulfills that requirement in our Diocese. If your child misses a class, it is your responsibility to make up the session at home. If your child has missed any classes, please notify Pat Brooks at the parish office to arrange a time to pick up the work and go over the make up for day(s) missed in class. Thank you so very much for your cooperation.

Blessings!!

Patricia A. Brooks, Catechetical Leader
