From Fr. JC Maximilian's Desk "Christ the Life of the Soul"

After Blessed Dom. Columba Marmion was elected the abbot of the Benedictine Abbey of Maredsous in Belgium, life did not get any easier. The outbreak of the First World War started a severe trial for Dom. Marmion, as Belgium bore the brunt of the brutalities of the war. In order to protect his young monks from being conscripted into the military, Dom. Marmion, disguised as a cattle dealer, established a temporary monastery in Ireland, and smuggled his young monks there for safety.

After the war, Dom. Marmion had to rebuild the Abbey, restore the monks, helped establish Belgian Congregation of Benedictine monasteries, and temporarily oversaw the Monastery of the Dormition in Jerusalem. Despite the busyness of administration, he never neglected his principle responsibility as abbot – fostering the growth in holiness of his monks through his spiritual talks.

In the midst of the worldwide flu epidemic, Blessed Dom. Columba Marmion died on January 30, 1923. When he was exhumed in 1963, his body was found to be incorrupt. He was beatified by Pope John Paul II during the Jubilee of 2000.

During his life, Dom. Marmion published three major works, known as his trilogy, edited by his secretary, Dom Raymond Thibaut, from his retreat notes. The works and original publication dates are Christ the Life of the Soul (1917), Christ in His Mysteries (1919), and Christ the Life of the Monk (1922). The trilogy focuses on the unfolding of Marmion's central teaching on divine sonship. It begins with a general treatment of how our life comes from our union with Christ, then details how we access the mysteries of the life of Christ, through the liturgy and sacraments, and ends with an application of his teaching through the Benedictine life.

Dom. Marmion never tires of repeating the central thesis of his spiritual teaching: Christ is the life of our soul. To accept this, we have to move away from our own ideas of holiness, of our own plans, and accept God's plan to give us holiness, in and through Christ, who is the "source" and "dispenser" of holiness.

Dom. Marmion relates that a central point of our reception of God's divine life stems from our adoption as sons (and daughters) in the Son. Spiritual adoption and childhood is at the very center of all of his writing and teaching. God has chosen us, and drawn us into His divine life through Baptism. The Christian life is the living out of the gift of grace of adoption and entrance into the life of the Trinity. "We shall understand nothing – I do not say only of perfection, of holiness, but even of simple Christianity – if we do not grasp that its most essential foundation is constituted by the state of a child of God; participation, through sanctifying grace, in the eternal Sonship of the Word Incarnate" (Marmion, Christ in His Mysteries, 64). Through our union with Christ, we enter into the life of the Trinity.

To be holy is to be like God. Holiness is a supernatural life that only He can give, and with which we must cooperate. Our participation in God's life is Trinitarian. "Our holiness will be to adhere to God known and loved, not any longer simply as the author of creation but as He knows and loves Himself in the bliss of His Trinity." We do not become holy through our own efforts, but by "sharing {God's} inner life" (Marmion, Christ the Life of the Soul 18).

Reflect on the Word of Jesus Christ

March 26, 2017
Fourth Sunday of Lent
John 9:1, 6-12, , 35-38

Sight refers not only to what we can do with our physical eyes but also to our awareness or understanding of things. In the Gospel story the physical sight is given to the man and then everyone wants to know how this happened. At the end of the passage Jesus returns to him, he recognizes Jesus voice the man asks Jesus to “point him in the right direction Jesus refers to himself (as the right direction). The man says to Jesus, finally, “Lord I put my faith in you!”

Sometimes this is the way it is for us too. We know all the things we need to know about Jesus, but for some reason sometimes we do not feel close to God. People often come to the light of Faith at different times in their lives. Then, one day, out of nowhere, sometimes at Mass or when someone goes out of their way to help us. Their act of kindness or thoughtfulness tells us how much God loves us....we get a feeling of peace come over us.

In our lives whenever it happens we have to be aware of how God acts in our lives and we in God’s life and know that God wishes to be with us. We walk on a journey with our fellow disciples and help each other to grow. Are your eyes open? Are you looking and searching for God the one who loves you and wants desperately for you to see him!

Adult: You can grow in your Faith by helping others to do so.

Child: Jesus, help me in my walk of Faith. Help me please!

The-Shoe-That-Grows

Did you know that there are 300 million children in the world that do not have the basic foot protection that shoes provide? Kenton Lee found this out first hand when in 2007 he was doing some missionary work in Kenya. When he came back to the United States, he decide that he wanted to do something about that.

With the help of a former shoe designer for Nike, Kenton designed “The-Shoe-That-Grows.” It is a sandal type shoe that can be adjust to fit 5 different shoe sizes, and to last at least 5 years. That way as a child grows, the shoe can be adjusted to grow with them. They come in 3 sizes – Small (toddler size 10 to kid’s/women’s size 2, or EUR 27-33), Large (kid’s/women size 1.5 to 7.5 or EUR 33 to 38), and Adult (women’s 7/men’s 6 to men’s size 12 or EUR 38 to 45).

Mr. Lee formed a company, Because International, to help distribute the shoes. They sell the shoes here, for $50/pair, but for each pair sold they donate two pairs to those in need. So you really are getting three pairs of shoes for $50; one for yourself and two for those who are poor.

I bought a pair in January, and wore them during my vacation. Now I am going to be participating in Because International’s annual fundraiser, “Wear-A-Pair.” I will be wearing my pair every day from April 3 to April 9 (at least part of the day). And I have set up a fundraiser page at:

https://fundraise.theshoethatgrows.org/fundraiser/920416?is_new=true

Please consider making a donation to help some poor children get some shoes. And if you are looking for a pair of sandals for the summer, consider buying a pair at www.theshoethatgrows.org Fr. JC

Please Spiritually Adopt an Unborn Baby

This weekend at Resurrection Parish we're beginning a unique program of prayer for babies in danger of abortion. Each year in our country over one million babies are aborted. All too often, couples in unexpected pregnancies feel as though they have no options and choose abortion, not realizing the loving options and help that are available. Parishioners who wish to participate in this spiritual work of mercy may spiritually adopt a baby in danger of abortion. With your prayers, you can call down graces that will allow that baby's parents to choose life for their baby, and sparing the parents a lifetime of pain and guilt.

"Before I formed you in the womb, I knew you." (Jeremiah 1:5)

It's easy to participate: pick up a prayer card and commit to praying daily for your spiritually adopted baby and his or her parents. Each month in the bulletin we will offer updates on your baby's growth in the womb.

We are beginning this program of prayer at the time of the Annunciation, when we recall the Angel Gabriel's message to Mary that she would become the Mother of God. Our spiritual adoption program will wrap up at Christmas, when we will celebrate our spiritually adopted babies' birth along with the birth of Jesus. What an amazing gift to give Our Lord this Christmas: the gift of cooperating with Him to bring about new life!

Prayer Shawl Ministry

Prayer Shawl Ministry 4th Annual Display and Fundraiser

Once again the members of the Prayer Shawl Ministry will be displaying shawls on the weekend of April 1-2, 2017. Please stop by our tables at both worship sites and meet some of our members. If you would like a shawl for a family member, friend or acquaintance, one of our members will assist you. We not only make shawls for all occasions, but make small blankets for our newest members at their baptisms. Since we have had many requests for baby blankets, we have begun making those in pastel colors. Donations of yarn, and especially monetary donations to defray the cost of the yarn, are gladly accepted on this weekend. Because of the generosity of our parishioners, we are able to continue our worthwhile ministry.

Catechist/Parents Teaching Our Children

Prayer for Parents

Heavenly Father, make me a better parent. Teach me to understand my children, to listen patiently to what they have to say, and to answer all their questions kindly. Keep me from interrupting them.

Make me as courteous to them as I would have them be to me. May I never laugh at their mistakes, or resort to ridicule when they displease me.

Bless me with the confidence to grant them all their reasonable requests and the courage to deny them privileges I know will do them harm.

May I not rob them of the opportunity to think, to choose and to make decisions for themselves. Make me fair and just and kind, and fit me O Lord, to be loved and respected and imitated by my children
