From Fr. JC Maximilian's Desk "Living Out the Life of Christ in our Souls"

This week I will finish my discussion of the three major works of Blessed Dom. Columba Marmion. The main theme of Dom Marmion's spirituality is that Jesus came to earth to be our model on how to live; that Christ is the ideal of our souls.

The third, and final, book of his great trilogy, Christ in the Life of the Monk, is an application of this main theme of his to a particular way of life – the monastic. Since Dom. Marmion was a Benedictine monk, it should not be surprising that this is the way of life that he choose to apply his spirituality. But what will this tell us about how we can live out our spiritual adoption since we are not monks?

Blessed Marmion felt that in essence, the monastic life is not differ from the vocation of every Christian; "When we examine the Rule of St. Benedict, we see very clearly that he presents it only as an abridgment of Christianity, and a means of practicing the Christian Life in its fullness and perfection." The essence of the Christian life is the same for everyone, to find God and to remain united to Him by the bonds of faith and love. It is to follow Jesus Christ to the Father. While the monastic life may do this more intensely, it has the same goal as all Christians, no matter what their manner of life.

All Christians are called to seek God by imitating Christ. The perfection of any Christian is a "borrowed perfection" as Christ admits us to share in His own beatitude in the life of the Trinity.

According to Blessed Marmion, the monastery embodies as a microcosm the society which Jesus founded in the Church. In the monastery, the abbot serves in the role of Christ: as Jesus is the model for how to live the life of a human being in relationship with the Father, so the abbot is the model of how to live the life of a monk. Within the monastery, the monks live as a family. Likewise, the society which is the Church should have a family character towards it. As Christ Jesus was perfectly obedient to the will of His Father, the monk is to be obedient to the abbot, and the Christian is to be obedient to the Church. For all Christians, the goal is the reproduction of Christ in the soul.

This imitation of Christ, Dom. Marmion describes as being much more than just following His external actions. It must be a reshaping or refashioning from the inside. It is an artful life. The whole method of the spiritual life, art, is keeping the eyes of one's soul unceasingly fixed on Christ Jesus, our Model, this humano-divine ideal, in order to reproduce Jesus' features within us.

As we come to the end of the Lenten Season, the question we should ask ourselves is how well have we reproduced Christ in our souls?

Reflect on the Word of Jesus Christ

PALM SUNDAY OF THE PASSION OF THE LORD

RESURRECTION CONFERENCE
SOCIETY OF ST. VINCENT de PAUL
HELP LINE: 461-1131

When we look at Jesus as he approached his death we see the perfect example of how our own suffering can bring us closer to God. When Jesus stood before Pilate, he had been falsely accused of being the King of the Jews. Jesus did not respond.

When the people chose Barnabas to be released instead of him, Jesus must have felt abandoned. The people were probably the same ones that just a few days before welcomed him to Jerusalem with shouts of "Hosanna!" They might have been the people who followed him, whom he preached to and cured. Now they turned against him.

Who was the one person who recognized that Jesus is God? The centurion, a Roman soldier, someone who would never have followed Jesus. He saw the signs and believed, just like the woman at the well, the blind man and the people at the tomb of Lazarus. What are the signs now in our day that help you believe that Jesus is truly God?

Adult: I recognize his presence at Mass and the people at Mass adoring Him! I recognize Him when people are kind; not vicious and attacking others at Mass.

Child: I recognize Jesus in the Catechists at Faith Formation.

Lord, help me to recognize you everyday in everything.

The SVdP Society Members will attend 9:00AM Mass on Monday, April 10th at Holy Name Church. Breakfast to follow at Rt. 130 Diner. Please feel free to join us.

Good Counsel is More Than Grateful...

The Moms, babies and staff of Good Counsel Homes wish to thank the parishioners of Resurrection Parish for your support and genuine caring for our mission. There were over 350 baby bottles taken and many immediately contributed after Mass. For your convenience, you may drop off your baby bottles in the plastic bins that have been placed in both churches the weekends of April 1st and 2nd, and April 8th and 9th. Just look for the collection bins with the pictures of our Good Counsel babies! In a time when so many have so little, your giving spirits to help those less fortunate, inspire us as we continue to do God's work on earth. Thank you for your continual support and may God continue to bless you and your loved ones as we travel our Lenten Journey.
